

40th Annual New England Undergraduate Sociology Research Conference

Are you an undergraduate student in New England?

Do you have a sociology class paper to share?

How about a senior thesis?

Or a capstone project?

Or even a poster?

Bridgewater State University invites undergraduate students from around New England to present your research at the 40th Annual New England Undergraduate Sociology Research Conference.

If you are an undergraduate student or group of students interested in sociology, we welcome your participation.

The registration is free and lunch will be provided!

This conference will provide a supportive atmosphere for students to present their research papers and posters. Please join us!

April 25, 2014
8:00 am to 5:00 pm
